“What is saved in the cinema when it achieves art is a spontaneous continuity with all mankind. It is not an art of the princes or the bourgeoisie. It is popular and vagrant. In the sky of the cinema people learn what they might have been and discover what belongs to them apart from their single lives.”

John Berger – Art Critic

ABOUT NFDC

Incorporated in the year 1975, National Film Development Corporation Limited (NFDC) was formed by the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, with the primary objective of promoting the Good Cinema Movement.

NFDC has over the years produced noteworthy films with acclaimed filmmakers like Ghare-Baire (Satyajit Ray), Gandhi (Richard Attenborough), The Making of the Mahatma (Shyam Benegal), Salaam Bombay (Mira Nair), Jaane Bhi Do Yaaro (Kundan Shah), Mirch Masala (Ketan Mehta), The Lunchbox (Ritesh Batra), The Good Road (Gyan Correa), among many others.

With financial support extended to more than 300 films in 21 regional languages, NFDC's architecture aims towards creating domestic and global appreciation of good cinema.

OBJECTIVE

The main objective is to provide a cultural alternative to the commercial mainstream film experience, to celebrate and promote the artistic elements of the medium and to nurture and promote the art of filmmaking itself.

NFDC aims to make the Tagore Film Centre a preferred destination for films and related performing arts and the programming shall be a mix of both.
